The Company
Going Up is one of Australia's largest independent, Australian-owned elevator companies — proudly manufacturing, installing, servicing, and modernising lifts along the east coast.

With a strong pipeline of projects and a great team culture, we're expanding our Sydney installation team and looking for Lift Installers — including qualified Electricians, Mechanics, or Fitters who want to move into a specialised, long-term career in the elevator and lift industry.

Whether you're an experienced tradesperson or ready to transition into lift installation, Going Up provides a supportive team, structured training, and a strong Sydney project pipeline. Join a smaller, Australian-owned company that values its people.

Our worksites are located across Sydney, with our office based in Brookvale.

The Role
As a Lift Installer, you'll be involved in the full installation process — assembling, wiring and fitting out new lift systems from start to finish. You'll work alongside experienced technicians, developing skills in one of Australia's most stable and rewarding trades.

Key Responsibilities

- Install and fit out lift systems on a variety of projects
- Learn from experienced supervisors and colleagues
- Support testing, commissioning, and site handovers
- Maintain safety and quality standards

About You

- Trade qualified or experienced in electrical, mechanical or construction work.
- Mechanically or electrically minded, with a strong interest in technical hands-on work.
- Reliable, organised and a strong team player.

- Mechanically or electrically minded, with a strong interest in technical hands-on work.
- Reliable, organised and a strong team player.
- Commitment to safety and professional workmanship.
- Willingness to learn and develop new skills
- Lift or elevator experience is great — but not essential; full training is provided.

What We Offer

- Competitive pay with opportunities for overtime.
- Comprehensive on-the-job training with experienced installers.
- Support to build a recognised career in the vertical transport / elevator industry.
- Friendly, supportive and professional team environment.
- Uniform provided.
- Immediate start and a stable, full-time permanent role.

Ready to elevate your career?
If you're an Electrician, Mechanic, or trade-qualified professional looking for a new challenge and long-term stability, we'd love to hear from you.
